My research project is about Kurt Cobain and the theories revolving around his death. Kurt Cobain was the lead singer, guitarist, and primary song-writer for the band, Nirvana. When he killed himself there were theories about him having been killed by someone else. My research project aims to refute those theories by examining his life, particularly his problems with depression and drug use. I hope to use the example of Kurt Cobain to teach about the warning signs of someone who might be at risk of committing suicide.
