Integrated Bachelor’s/Master’s Degrees

Undergraduate students may apply for admission to one of our many integrated bachelor’s/master’s degree programs after completing 60 s.h. of undergraduate coursework with a minimum of 30 s.h. taken at WIU. Visit wiu.edu/grad/integrated for full details.
Professional and Academic Development Opportunities

Graduate students at WIU have unlimited opportunities to advance toward their goals through professional development activities, academic publishing and scholarship, presenting their research at the annual WIU Graduate Research Conference and other professional conferences, close collaboration with faculty and peers, hands-on learning experiences and leadership experience in departmental organizations.

University Libraries

The Leslie F. Malpass Library is a gem on the Macomb campus, offering an extensive collection, with online database access, to thousands of academic periodic journals and publications, including interlibrary loans through several consortia. The natural lighting and hundreds of indoor plants create an excellent environment for research, group and individual study and collaborative learning. The WIU-QC Library in Moline offers a collection specifically tailored to Quad Cities students and provides the same access to the same materials as the Macomb Campus libraries.

Laboratories, Clinics and Special Facilities

Hands-on learning opportunities are provided through the use of various labs, clinics and special facilities. A complete list is available at wiu.edu/grad/facilities. Some of those include:

- Alice L. Kibbe Life Science Research Station, a biological preserve of 222 acres along the Mississippi River
- Department of Psychology’s psychological clinic and psychoeducational clinic, which provide services to students and area residents
- Horn Field Campus, a 92-acre outdoor education and research facility in Macomb
- Speech-Language-Hearing Clinic, which provides diagnostic and therapy services for students and the Macomb community
- WIU GIS Center in Macomb is responsible for compiling, managing and storing GIS data layers.
