Student Affairs 101

October 18, 2024

To Whom It May Concern:

Western Illinois University is excited to host Student Affairs 101 on its campus. Student Affairs 101 is a one-day conference hosted by student affairs programs across Illinois, including Western Illinois University, Illinois State University, Eastern Illinois University, Northern Illinois University, and Southern Illinois University Edwardsville.

Student Affairs 101 provides an introduction and exploration of the values, practices, and experiences of student affairs professionals. It also offers valuable insights into the graduate school process for prospective students. The conference welcomes undergraduate students, graduate students, professionals, and faculty who are passionate about student affairs and enhancing the college student experience. It includes professional development programming, networking, a keynote presentation, and opportunities to learn about best practices and current trends in the field.

Please accept this letter to excuse your student from any classes or campus activities that will be missed while attending the Student Affairs 101 Conference on Friday, October 18, 2024.
